

MYTH TRUTH AND NATION-STATE:
HOW DO OUR 'HISTORIES'
HELP CREATE OUR WARS?

*How the teaching of history can help overcome
mistrust and conflict between nations*

Speaker: Professor Stefan Berger
with Jeremy Corbyn MP

Wednesday October 14th 6.30– 8.30pm
Grimond Room, Portcullis House
Westminster, London

- nationalist history has often been at the heart of justifying wars, ethnic cleansing and genocide: how do we develop an understanding of history which allows for mutual tolerance, creating more open collective identities?
- what is the relationship between national identity formation and historical writing?
- French and German school pupils have begun using the same history textbook: should we revise history teaching in the UK, and if so, how?

Stefan Berger is Professor of Modern German and Comparative European History at the University of Manchester. He is director of the international research programme 'Representations of the Past: The Writing of National Histories in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Europe'.

Organised by the Movement for the Abolition of War
www.abolishwar.org.uk

MYTH TRUTH AND NATION-STATE:
HOW DO OUR 'HISTORIES'
HELP CREATE OUR WARS?

*How the teaching of history can help overcome
mistrust and conflict between nations*

Speaker: Professor Stefan Berger
with Jeremy Corbyn MP

Wednesday October 14th 6.30– 8.30pm
Grimond Room, Portcullis House
Westminster, London

- nationalist history has often been at the heart of justifying wars, ethnic cleansing and genocide: how do we develop an understanding of history which allows for mutual tolerance, creating more open collective identities?
- what is the relationship between national identity formation and historical writing?
- French and German school pupils have begun using the same history textbook: should we revise history teaching in the UK, and if so, how?

Stefan Berger is Professor of Modern German and Comparative European History at the University of Manchester. He is director of the international research programme 'Representations of the Past: The Writing of National Histories in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century Europe'.

Organised by the Movement for the Abolition of War
www.abolishwar.org.uk